TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I have been growing and showing roses for 46 years and during that time I have tried many fertilizers and sprays with mixed results. About 4 months ago I started using Maidenwell Diatomite. After about 6 weeks I started to notice changes in my garden, bigger foliage and shinier leaves. Now after 4 months, the flowers are much bigger, the colour brighter and many more flowers. In 46 years of growing roses my garden has never looked better, a real show-piece of the street. This Diatomite is non-hazardous and non-toxic and Ph is stable.

I contribute the enormous growth in my garden to the use of Maidenwell Diatomite and I would have no hesitation in recommending Maidenwell Diatomite for use in any rose garden.

A great growing medium and well worth a trial.
